Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 14 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cold and frosty overnight. Small chance of showers Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloud breaking through the evening, with clear periods allowing a widespread frost to develop through the night. However, some scattered showers could also form towards eastern coastal districts through the early hours. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Thursday:
Cold and frosty start, then a bright daywith long periods of sunshine, but also risk of an isolated shower. Frosty again overnight with a small chance of freezing fog patches. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Largely dry and sunny through Friday and into the weekend with cold, frosty and perhaps foggy starts. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine with daytime temperatures trending towards normal.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.